I. The Lord's Present Healing Power – Vss. 16-17

II. The Exercise of Purposeful Faith – Vss. 18-19

III. The Saviour's Provision of Salvation – Vs. 20

IV. The Religious Pride of Unbelief – Vs. 21

“Reason” is translated from the Greek word, “διαλογιζεσθαι” (dialogizesthai from dialogizomai) and means, “to bring together different reasons and reckon them up, chiefly of thoughts and considerations which are more or less objectionable.”

V. The Divine Perception of Christ – Vs. 22

VI. The True Purchase Declared – Vss. 23-24

VII. The New Pilgrimage Begun – Vs. 25

The life of a believer is not centered on this present world, but on glorifying God and the world to come – Heaven. Just as a pilgrim does not stay in one place, the new believer rises up from their old life to walk a new life in Christ and declares the new relationship with Christ to the world, until they see the Lord Jesus Christ face to face in Heaven.

VIII. The Challenging Paradox of Miracles – Vs. 26

“Strange things” is translated from the Greek word, “παραδοξα” (paradoxa from paradoxos) and means, “beside opinion,” “contrary to expectation,” or in other words, “alongside one's present understanding or beliefs.”

IX. The Ministers Precious Call – Vss. 27-28

X. The Sacrificial Presentation of Jesus – Vs. 29

Imagine the great personal cost to have such a feast, in Matthew's own home, with such a large gathering, all to present the Lord Jesus Christ to them.

XI. The Close Persistent Opposition – Vs. 30

Notice the text says, “their scribes and Pharisees”

XII. The Righteous Physician's Mission – Vss. 31-32
